INTRODUCTION

The Spanish Linguistics Graduate Handbook provides Spanish linguistics graduate students with guidelines to complete the degree requirements of the Ph.D. program in Spanish Linguistics. It outlines the academic standards, policies, and procedures that govern them. It should be used together with the existing Arizona State University Graduate Policies and Procedures. It is the students' responsibility to comply with all university, school, and faculty requirements and to be thoroughly familiar with the content of this handbook. When in doubt, you should consult your mentor, the Spanish Linguistics Graduate Advisor, and the SILC graduate coordinator.

Arizona State University is an affirmative action/equal employment opportunity institution and does not discriminate on the basis of an individual's race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, citizenship, age, disability, Vietnam-era veteran status, special disabled veteran status, or any other unlawful discriminatory grounds in its programs or employment.

Student Accessibility and Inclusive Learning Services

<https://eoss.asu.edu/accessibility>

Disability impacts people of all races, ethnicities, cultures, religions and genders. The ASU Student Accessibility and Inclusive Learning Services (SAILS) supports an environment in which the diversity and variety of human experiences are respected and appreciated. It recognizes and values the unique history of each student and is committed to providing a safe and welcoming atmosphere and being sensitive to the needs of all students.

The center establishes eligibility for services and accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. For your convenience, there is a Student Accessibility and Inclusive Learning Services located on each of the four ASU campuses. Students with disabilities are encouraged to visit the SAILS on their specific campus to register and request accommodations. Special accommodations can be made for: testing, note-taking, laboratory work, transportation, rides and other needs. For information, visit <https://eoss.asu.edu/accessibility> or contact any SAILS office by phone: (480) 965-1234 or email: DRC@asu.edu.

Registering with SAILS does not change or waive Graduate College policy or time limits for degrees. If you need an extra accommodation because of a disability and you are registered with SAILS for this disability, you may petition the Graduate College for an exception to the policy (such as a time extension), citing your disability. The ASU Graduate College will review your individual situation and determine whether a policy exception is warranted. If you use the disability as justification in the petition, you will need to supply the Graduate College office with a release of information.

Compassionate or medical withdrawal

<https://thecollege.asu.edu/resources/medical-withdrawal>

You may request a compassionate or medical withdrawal if you experience a serious illness or injury or other significant personal situation that prevents you from continuing your classes. You should consult your mentor, the Spanish Linguistics Graduate Representative, and the SILC graduate coordinator.

Health and counseling services

Counseling services: <http://eoss.asu.edu/counseling>

ASU Health Services provides accessible health care for all ASU students right on campus. ASU Counseling Services provides confidential, personal counseling and crisis services for students experiencing emotional concerns, problems in adjusting and other factors that affect their ability to achieve their academic and personal goals. Additional resources for wellbeing can be found here: Graduate Wellness Resources and 10 Best Practices in Graduate Student Wellbeing.

Academic Integrity

The highest standards of academic integrity and compliance with the university's Student Code of Conduct are expected of all graduate students in academic coursework and research activities. The failure of any graduate student to uphold these standards may result in serious consequences including suspension or expulsion from the university and/or other sanctions as specified in the academic integrity policies of individual colleges as well as the university. Violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to: cheating, fabrication of data, tampering, plagiarism, or aiding and/or facilitating such activities. At the graduate level, it is expected that students are familiar with these issues and that each student assumes personal responsibility in their work.

Continuous Enrollment

Once admitted to a graduate program, students must be registered for a minimum of one credit hour during all phases of their program. Students must register for graduate level credit every fall and spring semester from admission to graduation. Summer registration is not required unless students are taking examinations, completing culminating experiences, conducting a doctoral proposal/prospectus, defending their dissertations or graduating from the program. Grades of "W" and/or "X" are not considered valid registration for continuous enrollment purposes. To review the full continuous enrollment policy, please see the Graduate College's Graduate Policies and Procedures Handbook.

Mentoring

We provide mentoring from the moment you are accepted through graduation. If you have any questions about your mentor, you may contact your graduate advisor. Your mentor will help you navigate not only course selection and scholarly research but also professional development options. You are free to change mentors at any time should your research areas or interests change.

Coursework

Students register for all coursework online through their MyASU page. Graduate-level courses are those numbered 500 or higher. Details regarding registration and course drop/add procedures are provided in the Registration and

University Policies, Procedures and Resources

Tuition Payment Guide. You should always consult with your mentor and graduate representative before registering.

Retention

All students are expected to make systematic progress toward completion of their degree. This progress includes satisfying the conditions listed below, and achieving the benchmarks and requirements set by this degree program. If a student fails to satisfy the requirements of their degree program, and/or benchmarks below, the student may be dismissed from their program based on the unit's recommendation to the Graduate College.

- Ph.D. students are required to maintain a 3.6 GPA. Students who at any time fall below these averages will be immediately put on probation for the following semester. If, during that semester, they do not meet minimal requirements, we will recommend to the Graduate College dean that the student be dismissed from the program.
- Grades of C and below do not meet the requirements of a graduate degree.
- Satisfy all requirements of the graduate degree program.
- Successfully pass comprehensive exams, qualifying exams, foreign language exams, and the oral defense of the proposal/prospectus for the thesis or dissertation.

Review and Dismissal

After the first year, all students will be reviewed annually. Students whose progress is found deficient will be informed in writing to that effect by the Graduate Advisor of Spanish Linguistics Graduate Studies. Students whose progress is unacceptable or who do not make adequate progress to degree will be dropped from their degree program.

Incompletes

Please visit the ASU Student Services Manual \(SSM\) for the incomplete grade policy.

Reading and Conference

Reading and Conference courses should not duplicate courses that are available in the catalog or by Special Topic. The Graduate Representative is responsible for authorizing such work. Appropriate forms are available in the departmental office. Please visit the ASU Catalog for the Classification of Courses.

Internships

The internship course for Spanish is SPA 584/684/784. Although students may not use internship credit as a substitution for courses required by the program, internship courses may be used on the iPOS as part of the total hours for the degree. One (1) credit hour may be awarded per 50 hours of internship work with prior approval. For more information on internships visit the ASU Career and Professional Development Services.

Leave of Absence

Once admitted to a graduate degree program or graduate certificate program, students must be registered for a minimum of one credit hour during all phases of their graduate education, including the term in which they graduate. If a student cannot meet this requirement, they must request a leave of absence, which can be done as a petition through the Interactive Plan of Study. Once submitted, the petition must be approved by the academic unit and Graduate College before the anticipated semester of non-registration. Students may request up to two semesters of non-registration during their graduate program.

Withdrawal

Voluntary withdrawal from ASU: If a student wishes to withdraw from his/her graduate degree program and the university, they must complete the Voluntary Withdrawal Form. Students must separately complete the appropriate forms with the University Registrar to withdraw from their courses. International students should contact the International Student and Scholars Center \(ISSC\) before submitting a Voluntary Withdrawal form, as it most likely will affect their visa status.

Voluntary withdrawal from a graduate degree program: If a student wishes to transition from one graduate degree program to another graduate degree program, the student should complete the Voluntary Withdrawal form. The student should not take this action until they have been admitted to the other graduate degree program.

Other types of withdrawal: There are appropriate circumstances when students may need to withdraw from the university (i.e. medical withdrawal, compassionate leave). The policies for such withdrawals are the same for both undergraduate and graduate students. Types of withdrawals and procedures can be found at the University Registrar's Office.

International Students

Students who need assistance with visas, immigration status, or other immigration questions should contact the International Student and Scholars Center \(ISSC\).

Interactive Plan of Study (iPOS)

Graduate students will file their Doctoral Plan of Study using a secure online process called the Interactive Plan of Study (iPOS). This electronic process will guide you through a step-by-step process and present a list of eligible courses to choose from. A number of edits are built in to ensure that students have met university requirements prior to submitting their iPOS. Students must submit their iPOS by the time they have enrolled for 50 percent of the minimum credit hours required for their degree program. Students will be able to login to review the status at any point along the way.

Transfer Credits

Credit hours completed at ASU or at another regionally accredited U.S. institution or international institution officially recognized by that country, before the semester and year of admission to an ASU graduate degree program, are considered pre-admission credits. With the approval of the academic unit and the Graduate College office, students may include a maximum of 12 graduate-level credit hours with grades of "B" or better that were not used towards a previous degree. Preadmission credits must have been taken within three years of admission to the ASU degree or certificate program to be accepted.

Grade Appeals/Grievances

A. The aggrieved student must first undergo the informal procedure of conferring with the instructor, stating any evidence and reasons for questioning that the grade received was not given in good faith. The instructor is obliged to review the matter, explain the grading procedure used and show how the grade in question was determined. If the instructor is a graduate assistant and this interview does not resolve the difficulty, the student may then take the problem to the faculty member in charge of the course (regular faculty member or director of the course sequence).

B. If the grading dispute is not resolved in step A, the student may appeal to the department chair or other appropriate chair of the area within the department (if any). The department chair may confer with the instructor to handle the problem. Step B applies only in departmentalized colleges or schools.

C. If these discussions are not adequate to settle the matter to the complainant's satisfaction, the student may then confer with the dean of the college or school concerned (or the dean-designate) who will review the case. If unresolved, the dean or designate may refer the case to the college or school academic grievance hearing committee to review the case formally. In most instances, however, the grievance procedure does not go beyond this level.

Teaching Assistantships

PhD students admitted to our graduate program and offered a TAship receive either a four or five-year funding guarantee, which includes a stipend, health insurance and tuition remission for the required 54/84 credit hours. Funding is provided through teaching assistantships. In the Spring, you will receive a memo for you to indicate your interest in being a TA for the upcoming semester. Assignments are based on the school's needs, faculty requests, student interests, experience and course schedules. International students are required to meet Graduate College's language proficiency requirement found here: <https://learnenglish.asu.edu/international-teaching-assistant>.

Selection of Teaching Assistants for Academic Year Appointment

Ph.D. students with funding who demonstrate satisfactory progress toward completion of degree requirements will be supported for four years (54 credits) or five years (84 credits). Their teaching performance should be satisfactory. TAships are only granted beginning in the fall semester. Applications will be processed by the Spanish Linguistics graduate committee. The Orientation and SPA 596 Second Language Methodologies course are required of all graduate students who hold TAships. This course needs to be taken in the first fall semester. Failure to attend the Orientation and enroll in the SPA 596 course will automatically cancel the Teaching Assistant contract. TAs are also required to attend teaching-related meetings, orientations, and workshops for the time they hold a TAship.

Students with a TA must enroll for a minimum of six (6) non-audit units each Fall and Spring semester of their associate appointment. TAs may not hold any additional or outside employment beyond their TAship during the Fall or Spring semesters (although they may in the summer). Engaging in such activities may result in the termination of your assistantship. Additionally, students who have accepted a TA offer must reside in the Phoenix Metropolitan area, regardless of course instruction mode.

For more Graduate College policies and procedures for Teaching Assistantships, please see this page: https://graduate.asu.edu/sites/default/files/ta-ra-policies-and-procedures-handbook-8-4-2017_0.pdf

Selection of Teaching Assistants for Summer Sessions

Students interested in being considered for summer appointments as FAs must submit applications separate from applications for the next academic year. The Spanish faculty head will review applications and, in light of the needs of the Spanish Program, a decision will be made regarding the positions, sessions, classes, and times awarded. Selection will be based on the results of the Evaluation Criteria (see below).

The Spanish faculty recognizes its obligation to provide continuous appointment for as many graduate students as possible during the summer months. However, no one is guaranteed a summer appointment because summer courses are subject to enrollment constraints and cancellations. Furthermore, appointment to summer teaching positions is contingent on the needs and budgetary allowances of SILC. Ordinarily, such appointments will be to teach the 100 and 200 levels and qualifications for such openings will be the same as during the regular academic year. Should openings occur at the 300 level, the teaching assistant should comply with the criteria established by the Spanish section. Applicants for summer positions must have been Teaching Assistants during at least one semester of the previous academic year.

Criteria for Candidates for 300-Level Teaching Assistant

The candidate must have taught at the 100 and 200 level (including 202 at ASU) with excellent evaluations by both students and TA Supervisor. Two of the candidate's last four evaluations must be presented. Candidates should be able to work independently and as a team, toward which a good recommendation in this area from their former TA supervisor will be required. Candidates need to be informed about modern methods and approaches to teaching, the proficiency movement, ACTFL scale, etc., and they should have taken a formal methods course in recent years. All candidates interested in teaching at the 313-314 level will be interviewed by the TA supervisor to discuss their teaching expertise and knowledge of methods. Candidates should present a lesson plan for a week for 313 and are expected to have visited both 313 and 314. Candidates should have received excellent teaching evaluations (1.50 or better) from their students and from their supervisor. The Faculty Head of the Spanish and Portuguese Program, the Graduate Representatives of the Spanish Graduate Program, and the Director of the Spanish Language Program must approve all appointments of TAs to teach at the 300 level.

Connected Academics

As a PhD student in our program, you will be part of our Connected Academics initiative and a Connected Academics Scholar. Arizona State University is one of three universities nationally chosen by the Modern Language Association and the Mellon Foundation to reimagine PhD education in the humanities for the twenty-first century. Through the MLAMellon Connected Academics Grant, we have designed programs that advances your career goals. Connected Academics enriches the experience of earning a doctoral degree in languages and literatures through augmented curricula, expanded para-curricular development, and extensive mentoring.

Preparing Future Faculty and Preparing Future Scholars (PFx)

Stemming from the nationally recognized Preparing Future Faculty (1993) (PFF), and the more recently developed Preparing Future Scholars (2013) (PFS) professional development programs, PFX (2017) provides doctoral students, MFA students, and postdocs with an overview of the requirements, career development skills, and plan stratagems necessary for a competitive career.

During PFX you will learn about the various roles of faculty members (research, scholarship, creative activity, teaching, service) as well as administrators, entrepreneurs, and leaders in industry, government, and other non-profit sectors. PFX will help you gain multiple perspectives and develop the skills needed for a successful career inside and outside of academia.

Doctoral Student Internships

As you develop your areas of expertise, you may pursue an internship opportunity within an organization outside your academic program. Internships may involve work in other disciplinary areas at ASU, partner educational institutions (K12, community college, or four-year), cultural organizations, other non-profits, or industry. Internships are designed to extend learning opportunities beyond the classroom as they allow you to gain hands-on experience in professional work environments related to your academic and career interests. An internship will provide you with a breadth and depth of experience, opportunities for you to apply principles learned in and outside the classroom, observe professionals in action, develop specific skills, and better understand structures of diverse work environments.

Professional Development Workshops

Connected Academics sponsors monthly professional development workshops to assist students in broadening skill sets applicable to diverse career pathways and fostering a professional identity. Past workshops have included the following:

- 8226 "Theory-to-Practice: Pitching Your Research" with Michael Manning
- 8226 "Developing Digital Identities" with Dr. Devoney Looser and Shannon Lujan
- 8226 "An Evening of Career Diversification" with Ruby Macksoud and Dr. Kalissa Hendrickson
- 8226 "Alternative Career Pathways for Humanists" with Dr. Mary O'Reilly and Dr. Jacqueline Hettel
- 8226 "Intentional Academic and Professional Development" with Dr. Alejandro Lugo and Dr. Michael Simeone
- 8226 "Voice Matters: An Introduction to the Production of Audio Text" with Dr. Ames Hawkins

Innovative Graduate Certificates

The Connected Academics program is launching Graduate Certificates in Humanities and Social Sciences Methodologies, in Digital Humanities, in Teaching in Higher Education, and in Computer Assisted Language Learning to offer a broader graduate education and enhance student's academic and professional profiles.

The Ph.D. Supervisory Committee

As a reference person to start navigating the Ph.D. program, upon acceptance into the program, all students accepted into the doctoral program in Spanish will have a mentor. This mentor does not have to be part of the Ph.D. Supervisory Committee.

Down the road, all students in the doctoral program in Spanish Linguistics will chose a Chair of the Committee and form a three-member Supervisory Committee from the Spanish Linguistics Graduate Faculty and the Affiliated Spanish Graduate Faculty lists (see below). The Chair of the student's Supervisory Committee serves as the primary mentor to the student as well as the Director of the dissertation.

The three members of the student's supervisory committee for the dissertation will represent a balance between the areas in Spanish linguistics. One of the three can be from the Affiliated Spanish Graduate Faculty at the dissertation stage. Please visit <https://graduateapps.asu.edu/graduate-faculty/degree/G8> for a list of the Spanish Graduate Faculty. Affiliated Spanish Graduate faculties can serve as members of Supervisory Committees, not as Committee Chairs / Dissertation Directors.

Change of Ph.D. Supervisory Committee

It is understood that, for valid professional reasons expressed in writing to the Spanish Linguistics Graduate Advisor, a student may request a change in the membership of his/her Supervisory Committee. This change shall be submitted through the iPOS system with prior approval.

Language Reading Knowledge Requirement

Each prospective doctoral candidate is expected to demonstrate a reading knowledge of one language other than English and Spanish. The student will choose the language in consultation with his/her Supervisory Committee. The Language Reading Knowledge Requirement must be satisfied before the candidate is eligible to take the Ph.D.

PhD in Spanish Linguistics

Comprehensive Examination.

Students may satisfy this requirement in three ways:

1. Students may take a reading knowledge course in the language (i.e. FRE 550, GER 550, POR 593). Students must pass the course with a C or better to use it towards satisfying the requirement.
2. Students may take and pass the Graduate Foreign Language Exam to show reading knowledge.
3. Students may receive a waiver from a faculty member who teaches the language in which they wish to show reading knowledge.
4. The students may produce a diploma proving their proficiency in the language.

Administration of Qualifying Exam

The Qualifying Exam allows the graduate student to demonstrate a specialized knowledge of the fields most relevant to support the planned dissertation research. The exam has three parts/questions and is administered from 8am to 5pm on the first Friday after Spring Break. Three essay responses totaling approximately 11-14 double-spaced pages will be written. The qualifying exam will be taken in the spring of the student's second year. The qualifying exam will be based on the Reading List (See Appendix A). The exam is graded on a Pass/Fail basis.

If the exam is not passed, the student may retake it the following semester (Fall). Passing the second attempt at the qualifying exams, a student would be able to continue in the program. If a student fails the exams a second time, they will be dismissed from the PhD program but may pursue a terminal master's degree in that same fall semester with the submission of a portfolio. The portfolio should contain:

In order to take the qualifying exam, students must have completed 24 credit hours (no incompletes) prior to the Spring semester in which they will take the exam.

Administration of Comprehensive Exam

The comprehensive examination will be given at the completion of the student's course work. The Ph.D. Comprehensive Examination in Spanish consists of a written examination. The candidate is responsible for becoming familiar and complying with all requirements set by the Graduate College, SILC, the Spanish Linguistics graduate committee, the examining committee, and the section.

Guidelines for the Written Comprehensive Examination (Linguistics)

The written examination consists of three segments:

1. Theoretical and foundational issues and empirical research in Spanish linguistics
2. Primary field of study
3. Dissertation topic: Methodology

Before scheduling the oral examination, students will need to submit a single-authored either published or publishable paper to be approved to begin the written portion of the examination to the chair of the Dissertation committee.

The written exam consists of three segments focusing on the breadth (question 1); depth (question 2); and methods (question 3).

The student will have one week writing time to elaborate the answer. The written essay should be between 20 and 25 double-spaced pages, excluding bibliography. It is strongly advised that the student completes the written part of the comprehensive examination within one semester or summer. Candidates will be required to write at least one of the exams in Spanish. It will be the responsibility of the student's Supervisory Committee to discuss the scope of each segment in the examination.

As each segment is finished, the examination will be given to the SILC Graduate Program Student Services Support Coordinator who will route the complete examination to the chair of the Supervisory Committee. The chair will then distribute the examination to the committee for reading and assessment once all the segments have been submitted. Each committee member will grade each answer to each segment of the comprehensive examination as follows:

A4	B3	C2	D1

After all three written answers to exam segments have been reviewed by all committee members, the Supervisory Committee Chair will collect the grades. The Chair will inform the committee members and the candidate of the results via email. In order for the student to pass each segment, the average of all answers in that segment must be a minimum of 3.0 points. The answer to each question needs to meet or exceed the following requirements:

1. The essay needs to fully answer the question with well-developed arguments and ideas and information that is accurate and appropriate to the question at hand. There should be strong evidence of critical thinking.
2. The essay needs to fully demonstrate the students' ability to use key concepts and constructs in the literature to create a clear and original argument and an excellent ability to analyze, synthesize and critique current and relevant literature and theory in building main arguments.
3. The essay needs to present an excellent and effective organization and excellent command of academic writing in Spanish and English.

Failing the comprehensive examination(s) is considered final unless the supervisory committee recommend and the Dean of the Graduate College approve a re-examination. Only one reexamination is permitted. A petition with substantial justification for re-examination, under extenuating circumstances. Only one reexamination is permitted and it is only for cases when the committee feels that the students' weaknesses can be overcome in a short period of time. A petition with substantial justification for re-examination, endorsed by the members of the student's supervisory committee and the head of the academic unit, must be approved by the Dean for the Graduate College before a student can take the examination a second time. Reexamination may be administered no sooner than three months and no later than six months from the date of the original examination. The Graduate College office will withdraw a student from the degree program if the student's petition for re-examination is not approved, or if the student fails to successfully pass the retake of the comprehensive examination(s).

The Supervisory Committee Chair is responsible for discussing the results of the comprehensive exam with the candidate as well as directing her/him to discuss the exam with other members as needed and/or requested. In the event that the candidate obtains a passing score of 3.0 or above on each of the three exam segments, s/he will normally proceed to the dissertation proposal defense within 3 months from the time the results of the written examination were communicated to him/her. Failure to present a proposal defense within 3-6 months will be considered inadequate progress to degree.

The Doctoral Dissertation

The Dissertation

The dissertation is the document presented by a candidate for the Ph.D. in demonstration of the ability to conduct documented scholarly research in conformance with the prevailing standards of Hispanic scholarship in Linguistics/Applied linguistics. When preparing the document, the candidate should consult the Format Manual, available in the College. Please visit <https://graduate.asu.edu/format-manual> for the Graduate Education Format Manual.

Supervisory Committee

Dissertations are prepared under the direction of a Supervisory Committee of a minimum of three members. At least two of these members must be graduate faculty in the Spanish Linguistics program. The following are the roles in the Supervisory Committee:

Director – The Director of the dissertation is the Chair of the student's Supervisory Committee and is primarily responsible for ensuring its completion in conformance with prevailing scholarly standards. The Director fulfills a mentor role with respect to the student, setting the focus of the research project, guiding the candidate in all phases of his/her work, and maintaining the highest possible academic standards. The Director of the dissertation must be a faculty member endorsed to chair dissertations in the Spanish Linguistics Ph.D. program and is usually selected based on expertise with respect to the dissertation project. The Director determines the point at which the dissertation manuscript is ready for defense.

Co-Director – While the role of Director is usually filled by a single faculty member, under exceptional circumstances, this role may be filled by two Co-Directors. A Supervisory Committee should only have Co-Directors if both Co-Directors' expertise is jointly needed in order to develop the dissertation project. While workflows should be negotiated between the candidate and the Co-Directors, it is to be expected that additional time will be required for Co-Directors to fulfill the function of Director.

Member – Members of the Supervisory Committee advise the candidate in their individual areas of expertise. Members share in the responsibility for maintaining the highest possible academic standards. While Members of the Supervisory committee may comment on chapters, portions of chapters, or the entire dissertation, it is Director's responsibility to determine when the manuscript is ready for defense.

Dissertation Proposal

The Dissertation Prospectus should be developed by the student in consultation with his/her Supervisory Committee. Although guidance is provided, the student is expected to work independently in the proposal writing. The prospectus will usually run from 25 to 40 pages, excluding the supporting bibliography, which should list all major sources. The final version of the proposal should be submitted to the committee at least two weeks before the prospectus defense, after it has received the approval of the Director. Although the Supervisory Committee shall make the final decisions related to format and length of proposal, the following format is suggested:

1. Title Page
2. Introduction
3. Statement of the Problem
4. Review of Existing Research Relevant to Doctoral Project
5. Research Questions and/or Hypotheses
6. Methods and Procedures
7. Data analysis
8. Limitations
9. Tentative Dissertation Chapters
10. References (limited to those cited in the proposal)
11. Appendices (if necessary)

The Doctoral Dissertation

The emphasis of the Dissertation Prospectus should be on the project itself (Research Questions and/or Hypotheses, Methods and Procedures, Data Analysis) so that the Supervisory Committee has a clear understanding of the proposed project.

Dissertation Proposal Defense

If the Ph.D. Comprehensive Examination is passed, it will be followed, within 3 months, by a Dissertation Proposal Defense, which is a formal presentation of the Dissertation Proposal described in the previous section. If the Supervisory Committee determines the need to do so, the candidate may be asked to defend a revised version of the Dissertation Proposal.

Dissertation Workflows

At or shortly after the Dissertation Proposal Defense, the candidate and the Director should establish a plan for workflows. There are three main types of workflows:

Chapter-by-Chapter – The candidate sends each chapter to the Director upon completion of the initial draft, and the Director provides feedback within a reasonable time frame, given the length of the chapter.

Entire Manuscript – The candidate sends the entire manuscript to the Director upon completion of the initial draft, and the Director provides feedback within a reasonable time frame, given the length of the chapter.

Halves – The candidate sends half of the manuscript upon completion of the initial draft of the introduction, literature review, and methodology chapters. The candidate sends the other half of the manuscript upon completion of the initial draft of the results and conclusion chapters. The Director provides feedback within a reasonable time frame, given the length of the chapter.

While the Director and Members are expected to provide feedback within a reasonable time frame, it is understood that work associated with the Supervisory Committee must be integrated with other duties (research, teaching, service, administration, other student committee work). As such, candidates should expect turnaround times to be a function of the length of work submitted. While it might be possible to receive feedback on a chapter that is shorter than 12,500 words (approx. 50 double-spaced pages) in a week, portions of the dissertation in excess of 25,000 words (approx. 100 double-spaced pages) may require a month. Candidates should keep in mind that faculty members have wide discretion about how they organize their time during the summer and university recesses, and, consequently, a longer turnaround time should be expected during these periods.

Dissertation Defenses

Dissertations are defended publicly. Dissertation defenses may not be scheduled until the Director has determined that the draft is ready for defense. Exceptions to this rule are only made in the case of an urgent need. Once the draft has been revised to conform to the feedback provided by the Director and the Director has approved the draft for defense, the candidate may schedule the defense in consultation with the Supervisory Committee. The deadline for submission to the Supervisory Committee of the draft should be no less than 30 days before the date of the expected defense. It is essential that the members of the Supervisory Committee be given sufficient time to make suggestions and to see the modifications prior to the defense. This means that the finished draft should be completed and submitted to director anywhere between 10-8 weeks before the expected defense date.

Members of the Supervisory Committee are requested to put their comments on the scholarly substance in writing, and the Director of the dissertation will be responsible for circulating them among the Supervisory Committee. If there are serious substantive questions raised by the other committee members, the whole Supervisory Committee should meet to resolve them. The candidate is responsible for providing committee members with a copy of the final manuscript of the dissertation at least 10 working days prior to the date of the oral defense. Any substantive changes made between this date and the defense must be communicated in writing to the committee members before 5 working days of the date of the oral defense. In the event of differences of opinion, the candidate is responsible for retaining the copies of the drafts with the suggestions of the committee members and providing a reasonable defense for their inclusion or exclusion.

Dissertation defenses should not be scheduled between 15 May and 15 August, except in cases of absolute necessity. In the exceptional case of a defense during this period, candidates should be prepared for members of the Supervisory Committee to require additional time to carry out their duties.

Defense Timelines

Due to the complexity of the process, candidates should allow sufficient time for the manuscript to make its way through the Supervisory Committee in order to defend in time for graduation in a particular semester. The table below provides a realistic timeline for how the dissertation can be defended in a given semester. Keep in mind that dissertations requiring substantial revisions can require additional time as can dissertations with Co-Directors. Candidates are therefore advised to plan accordingly. Please consult the Graduate College's Graduation Deadlines for the precise last date to hold a defense in a given semester.

	Fall Graduation	Spring Graduation
First complete draft to Director	3 rd week of August	1 st week of February
Dissertation draft approved by Director sent to Supervisory Committee	1 st week of October	mid-March
Last day to hold defense	1 st week of November	mid-April
Last day to submit final version via iPOS	mid-November	3 rd week of April
Last day to submit dissertation to UMI/ProQuest	3 rd week of November	End of April

The Doctoral Dissertation

The MIP is an option for Ph.D. Students in the Spanish Linguistics program who may be interested in having a Master in Spanish degree. That said, Spanish may grant the master's-in-passing to Ph.D. students not already holding the Master of Arts (M.A.) in Spanish. Regularly admitted students in the doctoral program may be considered for the M.A.-in-passing when they have completed 30 hours of course work judged to be equivalent to the M.A. requirement.

Requirements: In order to satisfy the requirements of the masters-in-passing, doctoral students will submit a portfolio two article-length essays from separate periods (25 pages each) or one long essay or project (45-50 pages). After completing 30 hours of course work, the portfolio will be submitted to the chair of the student's dissertation committee to be reviewed by the dissertation committee.

Procedure: Ph.D. students who have met the above requirements and wish to be awarded the master's-in passing should submit a Masters in Passing Request. After approval in the department it will be submitted to the Graduate College. The Graduate College will confirm the student's eligibility for the master's-in-passing and then work with Graduate Admissions to make the necessary system changes that will allow the student to submit the master's-in-passing iPOS online through MyASU. Once that is done, the student will be sent an e-mail alerting them to file the iPOS. The student will submit the iPOS through the normal procedures to the department for approval.

Please note that the Graduation Office will not review the iPOS for a master's-in-passing until the student has applied for graduation. Once the student has applied for graduation, the graduation office will review the master's-in-passing iPOS. If the iPOS is approved, the Graduate College will also enter the culminating experience results at that time. The master's-in-passing will be awarded at the end of the semester, with all other degrees, per normal graduation procedures.

Evaluation of Continuing Graduate Students

Deadline for student evaluations is before February 1 of each academic year

Each academic year the advisor or the Chair of the student's Supervisory Committee and the Director of the Spanish Language Program are charged with submitting an evaluation of their students' academic progress and teaching performance.

Each student must present their faculty advisor or chair with a printout of his/her graduate courses taken at ASU (unofficial transcript) and file a brief self-evaluation addressing his/her academic progress, teaching and goals for the next academic year. Statements should include:

1. How many semesters of support s/he has received, including summers;
2. Has s/he filed the official plan of study, taken exams, participated at conferences;
3. Teaching record and pedagogical workshops;
4. Participation in departmental service
5. Participation in internships sponsored by SILC or ASU

It is the student's responsibility to submit all the required paperwork by the deadline and to ensure that his/her academic advisor has filed the appropriate report. Incomplete dossiers cannot be considered.

Evaluation Criteria

1. Academic evaluation (up to 5.5 points)
 - GPA, that is, Grades, Course work (up to 2)
 - Presentations at professional conferences
 - Publications in professional journals
 - Other achievements (grants obtained, honors received, etc.)
 - Progress towards degree
 - No grade of Incomplete on record (for summer teaching)
2. Teaching (up to 4 points)
 - Courses taught: students' evaluations (mean Average Score 5-point Likert score)
 - Evaluation by the Director of the Spanish Language Program
3. Service (up to 0.5 point)

The evaluation period is the calendar year (January to December).

Rights and Obligations of the Student Representatives

Graduate students will be represented on the Spanish graduate committee. Their representatives will have voice at previously established regular meetings. The right to voice at other meetings of the committee will be exercised through a member of the Spanish graduate committee who will serve as spokesperson for the graduate students at the committee sessions that do not require the presence of the student representatives. Delegation of the right to voice will be made in writing. Graduate Representatives can attend meetings of the Spanish graduate committee by request, except those that require discussion of personnel or personal matters.

Graduate Representatives represent the graduate students in their petitions or suggestions to the following School or University authorities:

1. Faculty Head of Spanish and Portuguese, SILC
2. Director of the Spanish Language Program
3. Director of the Spanish Heritage Language Program
4. Spanish Graduate Representative
5. SILC Director and SILC Associate Director of Graduate Studies
6. Spanish Linguistics Graduate Committee
7. University administrators in general, as the specific case requires and the chain of command permits.

Graduate Representative serve as a link between the different educational and administrative levels of the School and the Spanish graduate students. This will be achieved by the following means of communication:

- a. discussions
- b. memoranda
- c. meetings, both regular and special
- d. posting on web page.

Student representatives will initiate the organization of graduate students' conference.

At the end of the spring semester, student representatives will organize annual elections of graduate representatives for the coming academic year.

Student representatives have the right to resign their position for either professional or personal reasons.

The representatives should conduct themselves according to the norms that professional behavior requires because they will frequently be privy to privileged or confidential information.

A representative may never represent another graduate student without the prior written authorization or request of that student.

SILC Certificates

Many SILC students choose to supplement their programs with additional certificates. No more than one-fifth (20 percent) of the minimum required credit hours for a graduate certificate may be transferred from another university. All transfer work must meet the Graduate College transfer policies. All coursework used to complete an ASU graduate certificate must be completed within a six-year time limit. Courses at a 400-level may be allowed with prior approval from the appropriate certificate program; however, a minimum of two-thirds of the courses taken to complete the certificate must be at the 500-level or above. No more than 40% of coursework towards the requirements of a graduate certificate can be completed prior to admission to the certificate program. Credit hours earned in a certificate program may also be used towards a degree program, standard preadmission rules apply.

Listed below are all certificates available through SILC along with the contact information for the directors of each.
